Justification for recommendations

1. Background

- 1.1. The Design and Heritage Team are undertaking a review of the Article 4 directions on existing Conservation Areas, starting with the North Lowestoft Conservation Area and the South Lowestoft/Kirkley Conservation Area. These Article 4 directions were put in place in 2007 by the former Waveney District Council and are blanket in nature, covering all properties within the Conservation Areas, regardless of their status, use or merit.
- 1.2. Article 4 directions are made under Article 4(1) of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 2015 (“GPDO”).
- 1.3. Under the existing Article 4 directions, any
 - alterations to elevations or roofs in a relevant location (fronting a highway, open space or waterway),
 - construction of a porch,
 - provision of enclosure within the grounds fronting a relevant location,
 - hard surfacing within the grounds fronting a relevant location,
 - installation of a satellite antenna,
 - alteration of a chimney,
 - alteration or demolition of a fence or boundary wall fronting a relevant location,
 - painting of an elevation in a relevant location,requires planning permission. This allows the Local Planning Authority to assess these proposals to minimise the loss of appropriate features or historic character, and/or control the installation of new features.
- 1.4. The Design and Heritage Team are reviewing the existing Article 4 directions so that they can be updated in terms of the most recent amendments (2015) to the General Permitted Development Order, and Government policy provided within the latest National Planning Policy Framework (“NPPF”) (Dec. 2023). Para 53 of the NPPF states that “The use of Article 4 directions to remove national permitted development rights should (...) in all cases, be based on robust evidence, and apply to the smallest geographical area possible.”
- 1.5. The North Lowestoft and South Lowestoft/Kirkley Conservation Areas were surveyed with reference to the features that an Article 4 direction can control change to. Based on this evidence in addition to consultations with the Development Management Team and the Enforcement Team, the Design and Heritage Team prepared new Article 4 directions, which would cover reduced geographical areas of the Conservation Areas.
- 1.6. The new Article 4 directions were presented to the Strategic Planning Committee on 8th January 2024, where it was agreed to make the new Article 4 directions. Notice of the making of the Article 4 directions was served in accordance with paragraphs 1(1)-(6) of Schedule 3 of the GPDO and a statutory public consultation period was commenced on 22nd January 2024 and ended on 1st March 2024 (6 weeks).

1.7. The new Article 4 directions do not come into effect unless they are confirmed, as outlined in Schedule 3 of the GPDO.

2. Introduction

2.1. The report will set out the results of the statutory public consultation, and seek confirmation of the Article 4 directions.

2.2. Schedule 3, paragraph 1(9) of the GPDO states that “In deciding whether to confirm a direction made under article 4(1), the local planning authority must take into account any representations received during the period specified in accordance with sub-paragraph (4)(d).”

3. Proposal

3.1. That the Strategic Planning Committee confirms the Article 4 directions made on 8th January 2024, to take effect on 15th April 2024.

Analysis of representations received during public consultation

3.2. Two public consultations ran concurrently; one for North Lowestoft and one for South Lowestoft/Kirkley. No comments were received for the North Lowestoft Article 4 direction and 16 comments were received for South Lowestoft/Kirkley on the online consultation forms. Between 10 and 20 comments and enquiries were sent in via email or came in via phone.

3.3. Guidance leaflets were produced on living in an Article 4 direction area and on living in a Conservation Area, which were attached to the consultation letters. In addition to the online consultation forms, in-person drop-in events were held. North Lowestoft received 5 visitors, South Lowestoft/Kirkley received approximately 30 visitors.

3.4. A summary of the written comments received during the public consultation and a summary of discussions with residents during the drop-in events are attached in Appendix G. Discussions at the drop-in events showed that planning regulations and Article 4 directions are generally not well-known, and some residents wanted to ask specific questions about their properties unrelated to the Article 4 directions. Most residents expressed that the preservation of the character of the Conservation Areas is important to them, even if they had concerns about the Article 4 directions for other reasons.

3.5. The written comments received during the public consultation can be separated into several main categories: general enquiries about what the changes mean, concerns about the reduction of the geographical areas covered by the Article 4 directions and concerns about the Article 4 directions remaining in place in some areas.

3.6. Residents were concerned that the removal of some areas from the Article 4 direction would result in those areas deteriorating due to lack of planning controls. These concerns are noted, however one of the aims of the Article 4 direction review is to regularise the different planning regulations that overlap on certain properties. Article 4 directions only affect houses, not flats or commercial properties. Therefore, it is proposed to remove large areas that are predominantly commercial, which happen to be most parts of London Road North and London Road South. The shops and mixed-use buildings on these roads already need planning permission to make changes to their exterior, due to their use, so the Article 4 direction is not relevant to them.

- 3.7. There are only a few streets that are mostly residential that are being removed from the Article 4 direction areas. These removals are based on a condition survey of the area, which showed that some streets have suffered from significant removal of historic features. Article 4 directions should only be used where there is a threat to the historic features on properties, and therefore there should still be a sufficient level of historic features remaining.
- 3.8. The areas that would not be covered by Article 4 directions would still be in the Conservation Area, and their character and appearance would still be an important consideration in any planning decision. Additionally, many changes that affect the external appearance of a single dwelling still require planning permission in a Conservation Area – for example; replacing windows with windows that have a different appearance, replacing slates with concrete roof tiles and rendering or externally insulating the building.
- 3.9. Other residents objected to the use of Article 4 directions, due to concerns about financial pressures on owners or stating that the areas that would remain included do not merit further protection (particularly due to the loss of historic windows that has already taken place).
- 3.10. The survey results were reviewed in response to these concerns. The area that was brought up most was the central part of London Road South, where it is proposed to retain the Article 4 direction. The survey showed a mix of groups of buildings that have all lost their historic windows, and groups of buildings that still retain some of their historic windows. The overall impression is that more windows have been lost than retained. However, windows are not the only features that the Article 4 directions are aiming to preserve. The Article 4 directions also cover historic roofs, porches, chimneys, doors, front boundaries and front gardens. Areas where most of these features are historic/appropriate in character were considered to merit the retention of the Article 4 direction. In the case of this part of London Road South: many historic doors have been lost, similar to the windows, however chimneys, front yards and front boundaries have been retained on all but a few properties. Few properties have rooflights or other modern roof elements, there are several historic porches and only one modern inappropriate porch. These factors were considered together, giving an overall positive retention of historic/appropriate features, which is why the area is proposed to stay in the Article 4 direction area.
- 3.11. Under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990, it is the duty of Local Planning Authorities to designate areas of special architectural or historic interest as Conservation Areas, in order to preserve this special interest. It is acknowledged that owning a property in a Conservation Area can put a financial burden on owners, as it is expected that historic features are retained where possible and appropriate materials are used for alterations. These historic features and materials make an important contribution to the character of the area and to the appearance of the townscape, therefore it is considered justified to apply Article 4 directions where they are at a high risk of loss. The new Article 4 directions would, by reducing the size of the area they cover, ensure that only those areas that merit restrictions of permitted development rights remain covered. It is important to note that historic features can be repaired and maintained without need for planning permission, and energy-saving measures such as draughtproofing and secondary glazing also do not require planning permission.

- 3.12. Many residents also brought up concerns about inconsistent planning enforcement decisions in the past, which are acknowledged. Another aim of the Article 4 direction review is to provide an up-to-date Article 4 direction that will prompt consistency across decisions in the future. It is planned to photograph all properties in the Article 4 direction areas on the day that they come into effect, to provide a database of evidence of the condition of these properties. This database would be accessible to Enforcement Officers and Planning Officers during enforcement enquiries.
- 3.13. The drop-in events were essential in providing more information about the Article 4 directions directly to residents. After providing further guidance and explanations about the impacts of the Article 4 directions and/or the impacts of removing them, many residents were generally supportive.
- 3.14. The Lowestoft Town Council expressed support for the proposals.
- 3.15. Having considered the representations received during the consultation process, officers still consider that the proposals are reasonable and justified.

4. Financial Implications

- 4.1. There are no direct financial risks from making an Article 4 direction. A claim for compensation may arise should a subsequent planning application be refused.
- 4.2. Compensation is payable in certain circumstances following the making of an Article 4 direction. This would be payable where planning permission is applied for and refused for development which would, if not for the Article 4 direction, have been able to be carried out under the GPDO, or where such planning permission is granted but subject to more restrictive conditions than those imposed by the GPDO.
- 4.3. Section 108(2A) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 provides that compensation is only payable if an application for planning permission for certain development formerly permitted by the GPDO 2015 is made within 12 months of the Article 4 direction taking effect. A claim for compensation must be made in writing and must be served within 12 months from the date of the decision in respect of which the claim is made.
- 4.4. Section 107 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that the claim for compensation can include abortive expenditure and other loss or damage directly attributable to the withdrawal of the permitted development right. This can include the difference in the value of the land if the development had been carried out and its value in its current state, as well as the cost of preparing the plans for the works.

4.5. In this case, there is a very minimal financial risk. All properties that are proposed to be covered by the new Article 4 directions are already covered by the existing Directions, and will not experience any new planning restrictions, except 4 single residential properties. These properties were added to the North Lowestoft Conservation Area during the most recent boundary review in 2021, but the Article 4 direction was not extended to cover them as well at that time. The properties are:

- Otterburn, 31 Corton Road, Lowestoft, Suffolk, NR32 4PJ
- 33 Corton Road, Lowestoft, Suffolk, NR32 4PJ
- 85 Royal Avenue, Lowestoft, Suffolk, NR32 4HJ
- 87 Royal Avenue Lowestoft Suffolk NR32 4HJ

The risk that the owners of these properties make a claim for compensation within 12 months of the confirmation of the Article 4 directions is considered to be low.

5. Legal Implications

5.1. All legal requirements have been met as described in this report.

6. Risk Implications

Regulatory Risk

6.1. There is no formal right of appeal against the making of an Article 4 Direction. There could be an application for judicial review if it were thought that the Council had not considered the merits of the Article 4 direction properly. This is considered to be a low risk.

Reputational Risk

6.2. The Local Planning Authority has a duty to pay special attention to the preservation and enhancement of the character and appearance of Conservation Areas, as per section 72 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990. If the Article 4 directions are confirmed, they would support this statutory duty.

6.3. Confirming the Article 4 directions would also support the delivery of consistent planning and planning enforcement decisions, which would decrease the risk of reputational damage in the future.

7. Options

7.1. Either the Strategic Planning Committee agrees to confirm the Article 4 directions. This would have the effect of reducing the geographical areas that are currently covered by the Article 4 directions, and update them in terms of relevant legislation and planning regulations, and Government guidance provided within the latest NPPF (Dec. 2023). The existing Article 4 directions would then be cancelled and superseded; or

7.2. The Strategic Planning Committee decides not to confirm the Article 4 direction. This would mean that the proposed Article 4 directions do not come into effect, and the existing Article 4 directions would remain in place.

8. Recommendations

- 8.1. That the Strategic Planning Committee confirms the Article 4 directions made on 8th January 2024, in accordance with paragraphs 1(9) and (10) of Schedule 3 of the General Permitted Development Order 2015, to come into effect on 15th April 2024.

9. Reasons for Recommendations

- 9.1. It is the view of officers that the new Article 4 directions and the reduced geographical areas covered by them are reasonable and justified. Representations from those affected by the proposals were considered and addressed as required by paragraph 1(9) of Schedule 3 of the General Permitted Development Order 2015.
- 9.2. The areas that will remain covered by the Article 4 directions retain architectural and historic features that contribute to the character and appearance of the Conservation Areas. Continuing the restriction of permitted development rights in a more targeted way will be policy compliant at national and local level. This will continue, therefore, to support the preservation and enhancement of the Conservation Areas, as required by Section 72 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990.

10. Conclusions/Next Steps

- 10.1. If the Strategic Planning Committee decides to confirm the Article 4 directions, the relevant notices will be served. The serving of these notices will be done as statutorily required on the date that the Article 4 directions come into effect (15th April 2024): by local advertisement, by at least two site notices and by letter to all property owners and occupiers in the affected areas. A copy of the Article 4 direction will also be sent to the Secretary of State.
- 10.2. The existing Article 4 directions will on that date (15th April 2024) be cancelled and superseded by the new Article 4 directions.
- 10.3. Once confirmed, the Article 4 directions remain in place indefinitely unless they are cancelled by making a subsequent Article 4 direction.
- 10.4. On the date that the new Article 4 directions come into effect (15th April 2024), officers will take a photographic survey of all properties in the Article 4 direction areas, to be compiled into a usable database.

Appendix GSummary of comments received during the statutory public consultation*Summary of Public Consultation Results

Two concurrent public consultations ran from 22nd January 2024 to 1st March 2024 (6 weeks). Responses to the public consultations were received through the online consultation forms, via email and over the phone, as well as in-person at two drop-in events.

In total, 16 responses were submitted on the online forms, 4 email responses were sent and between 10 and 20 enquiries came through via phone. Officers spoke with 5 residents at the North Lowestoft consultation event and approximately 30 residents at the South Lowestoft/Kirkley consultation event.

The Lowestoft Town Council expressed support for the proposals.

Discussions at the drop-in events showed that planning regulations and Article 4 directions are generally not well-known, and that more information should be made available about them. Many residents expressed that the preservation of the character and appearance of the Conservation Areas is important, even if they had concerns or objections to the Article 4 directions. At the in-person events, after providing further guidance and explanations about the impacts of the Article 4 directions and/or the impacts on removing them, many residents were generally supportive.

There were several themes raised by the written responses:

- General enquiries about Article 4 directions and Conservation Areas, and what the changes mean.
- Concerns about the reduction of the geographical areas covered by the Article 4 directions, and the impact that this would have on the character and appearance of these areas.
- Objections to the Article 4 directions remaining in place, due to the planning restrictions this imposes on residents.
- Specific questions about properties, not about the Article 4 directions.
- Concerns about previous inconsistency in planning enforcement.

		Summary of comment	Officer response
1	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Concern about costs of timber windows and secondary glazing. • The Council should make grants available. • Concern about Planning Permission costs. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The cost associated with timber windows are acknowledged. Their cost reflects the longer life expectancy, traditional appearance and construction, which contribute to the character of the Conservation Area.
2	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Appreciative of the controls that A4 directions apply and how they help to preserve the character of the area. • Significant improvements can be made with within the constraints. • Request to retain the A4 directions as far as possible. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Comments on the effectiveness of Article 4 directions are acknowledged. • The review of the Article 4 directions ensures that they are used in areas where it is justified. Any residential properties that would be outside of the Article 4 direction area are still covered by planning restrictions.

3	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Request to retain the A4 directions in all areas. Better enforcement is needed. Reduction in Areas would be a step back. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Acknowledged the concern about inconsistent enforcement. The review aims to be a new baseline for consistent decisions in the future.
4	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Enquiry about why certain areas are removed and others not. Concerns about cost of timber windows. Want to retain the character of the streets, but there should be a way for people to change to plastic windows. Plastic windows have improved in appearance. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Plastic windows are not able to replicate the character and quality of timber windows. Maintenance and repairs can extend the life of timber windows significantly, and thermal improvements can be added without need for planning permission.
5	Kirkley People's Forum	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Objection to removal of A4 direction on large parts of Kirkley Areas that are being removed coincide with the HAZ areas, why is this? This would be a step back from the good work that has been done recently. Lack of enforcement Will this make it easier for landlords to make changes? Will the flat saturation area be affected? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Acknowledged the concern about inconsistent enforcement. The review aims to be a new baseline for consistent decisions in the future. Properties removed from the Article 4 direction will still be in the Conservation Area and will remain covered by certain planning restrictions. The Conservation Area boundaries and flat saturation area are not changing.
6	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concerns about inconsistent enforcement 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Acknowledged the concern about inconsistent enforcement. The review aims to be a new baseline for consistent decisions in the future.
7	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A4 directions should be removed from all areas or none. Other councils have agreed certain uPVC window styles that are appropriate. Inappropriate windows can be changed with other inappropriate windows without planning permission. This perpetuates the deterioration of the area. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Plastic windows are not able to replicate the character and quality of timber windows. Maintenance and repairs can extend the life of timber windows significantly, and thermal improvements can be

8	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> London Road South, College Road, St Aubyns and St Peters Roads where it is proposed to remove the A4 direction only have 22% of original windows remaining. People who already have plastic windows are unlikely to comment on the consultation, which should be taken into account. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Article 4 directions aim to preserve the overall character of the area, therefore even if many of the historic windows have already been lost, the overall positive survival rate of historic features (windows, doors, roofs, chimneys, front boundaries, front gardens, non-extended front elevations) means the area still merit retention of the Article 4 direction.
9	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Many houses in the A4 direction area have very large windows, which are not energy efficient. This is made worse by the seaside location. Lowestoft is not an affluent area, homeowners are forced into fuel poverty. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Regular maintenance of historic features extends their lifetime and can improve their energy efficiency. Refurbishment, retrofitting and secondary glazing do not require planning permission.
10	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> More information about Article 4 directions should be provided before public consultations. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Comments are acknowledged. Guidance was sent out with every consultation letter, which will be published on the Council's website.
11	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concerns about cost of planning permission. Planning permission and pre-application advice should have a reduced fee. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Refurbishment of historic features and secondary glazing do not require planning permission. Guidance on what changes can be made in Conservation Areas will be published on the Council's website.
12	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concerns about the efficiency of Victorian cast iron guttering and down pipes. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Where it is justified that existing historic features are beyond repair or causing damage to properties, a suitable alternative could be permitted, subject to planning permission. The Article 4 directions enable officers to make an assessment of any proposed changes in order to preserve the character and appearance of the Conservation Areas.

13	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concerns about lack of consistency in enforcement. On London Road South, College Road, St Aubyns and St Peters where it is proposed to retain the article 4 direction there is a total of 190 properties. Only 40 of which have retained the original windows, fewer than 40 have retained the original Front door, guttering and roof with 6 retaining the front garden wall and railings. Objection to the retention of the Article 4 direction in this area. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reviewed survey data: The survey picked up on several phases of historic and appropriately detailed windows and other relevant features, not only original windows. Buildings were surveyed in groups. In this area, some groups of buildings have less than 25% of historic windows retained, some have approximately 75% of historic windows retained. Garden walls may have been changed, but their presence is still an important contributor to the appearance of the street. Overall, there was considered to be a positive presence of historic and appropriate features, therefore these areas are still considered to merit the Article 4 directions.
14	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Objection to retention of A4 direction due to financial burden on owners Areas of Lowestoft are deprived, scoring 1 on the Multiple Deprivation scale by the Ministry for Housing Communities and Local Government (MHCLG). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The cost of timber windows compared to uPVC windows is acknowledged. 16	Resident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Keeping historic character is important, but should be taken in balance with improving wellbeing for residents. Summary of comments and discussions during drop-in events

Further actions taken

- In the vast majority of cases, once residents understood how an Article 4 direction was different from a Conservation Area ("CA"), what the reduced areas were and the reason behind the change (i.e building already with protection or with lower historic retention), they were accepting of proposals.
- Questions about windows:

- Reviewed survey data: The survey picked up on several phases of historic and appropriately detailed windows and other relevant features, not only original windows.

- a. Why are there so many plastic windows if these protections were already in place?
 - Inconsistent enforcement, which is part of the reason for the reduced areas to make enforcement easier and set a new baseline.
- b. Residents hadn't realised that there was a baseline level of protection in a CA, whereby permission should be sought for change of external appearance changes, regardless of Article 4 direction.
- c. There was a general feeling that uPVC windows were 'the best' option for efficiency for cost.
 - Wooden windows more expensive initially, but have a much longer lifespan with cheaper repair costs as whole units rarely need replacing. Secondary glazing and draught proofing should be the first measures and make a radical difference in efficiency at a relatively small cost in comparison to wholesale uPVC replacement, and allow retention of historic character.
- d. Frustration that Article 4 direction would make it more difficult to 'upgrade' to uPVC when others had/matters of 'precedent'.
 - This is an issue of enforcement and uPVC was likely done without permission. Article 4 direction makes no difference here, as they are still within a CA so should have required permission to change the windows originally. Article 4 direction only seeks to conserve, to limit further damage to historic character and that's why it's important to have in areas of well-conserved historic features, regardless of 'precedent'.
- Some residents claimed there were areas where most original features had been lost and so shouldn't be included in Article 4 direction, while in other areas some said there was high retention so should be included.
- There were concerns about the financial burden for those living within a CA due to higher standards for materials/design that would otherwise not be an issue.

- The areas that are proposed to remain in the Article 4 direction area, as discussed with residents, were areas where historic windows had been lost, however there was still an overall positive retention of other historic features.
- The areas that are proposed to be removed from the Article 4 direction area are areas where detrimental changes have already taken place, and therefore the retention of the Article 4 directions in these areas is not justified.

- Comments about the untidy appearance of Sanctuary Court site, why is it allowed to look so untidy given its position in the conservation area. Provided enforcement email address for resident to raise with enforcement directly. Multiple comments about Sanctuary Court from different residents.

- Guidance on what the restrictions in Article 4 directions are, and what can be done without planning permission, will be published on the Council website.

- Enquiry about how to apply for a building to be listed
- Comments about the contemporary grey house on Kirkley Cliff Road and why it was allowed in the conservation area
- Comments that this review rewards previous ‘bad behaviour’ where people have done works without consent which gives an amnesty on unauthorised works, meanwhile residents who have applied to replace windows etc and have had refusals have been treated unfairly given the lack of enforcement
- Comments about the deprived nature of the area and that maintaining timber windows is too expensive, and inefficient windows result in higher energy costs for running buildings
- Comments that the buildings in Kirkley are average Victorian building stock and not worthy of additional protection
- Comment that other aspects of the A4 were acceptable but there should be no restriction on windows across the South Lowestoft/Kirkley Conservation Area
- Frustration about lack of enforcement and inconsistent planning decisions
- Alleged 20% of houses in the main A4 proposed for retention have original windows, and concerns over the data collection not warranting protection.

- Survey data reviewed (as noted above)

North Lowestoft

- Question about whether consent would be required to change a fence – supported the proposals, understanding the reasoning behind removing non-residential properties and flats from the proposals
- Question about whether consent would be required to change windows – accepted that it would as they had previously applied for and gained consent in the 1980s. Supported the proposals, understanding the reasoning behind removing non-residential properties and flats from the proposals

South Lowestoft/Kirkley

- Generally supportive of the proposals recognising the special quality of the area. Had been concerned that the Conservation Area boundary was changing but reassured that it was just the Article 4 area. Question about whether planning required for a side conservatory replacing a flat roofed attached garage
- Generally supportive of the proposals recognising the special quality of the area and the impact that inappropriate works can have. Question about whether a new detached garage to side of the

- property would need consent and about whether consent required to change boundary fence
- Wanted to know about impact on shops – explained restrictions only relate to single dwellinghouses so the restrictions on shops would not be impacted. Generally supportive.
- Question about whether consent was required to change UPVC windows to an improved pattern in a listed building
- Objected to the proposals. Stated that it was unfair that those that have followed the rules are being penalised by not being allowed to change timber windows from UPVC whereas areas that have not followed the rules are now being removed from the area and therefore won't face same restrictions. Timber windows are prohibitively expensive.
- Generally supportive of the proposals once they were explained, had been concerned that areas were being taken out of the conservation area completely
- Unrelated to proposals. Concerned about lack of public consultation relating to tree works in the conservation area – Officer explained that owners only have to give notice to the Council about tree works so it is not something that the public can comment on. Would still prefer community to know about works in advance
- Unrelated to proposals - Concerned about level of street lighting at Union Terrace following change to more modern street lights – very concentrated light that doesn't cover the whole street – advised to contact the County Council.

North Lowestoft

- Question about whether a bus shelter could be removed from in front of owner's building. Concern about rubbish left around the shelter.

South Lowestoft/Kirkley

- Concerns about the cost of living associated with historic buildings. This area is the most deprived.
- Objection to retaining Article 4 direction on London Road South – concern about not being able to replace historic windows.
- Owners of a listed building wanting to know how the removal of the Article 4 would affect them.
- Local Scout leaders wanting to know more about the event, to share with their groups.
- Local resident concerned about the removal of the A4 from part of the London Rd South area and from the Windsor/Cleveland/Grosvenor area. States the area still has a lot of architectural significance that should be preserved. Concern that if buildings that are currently flats are reunited into single dwellings, then they wouldn't be covered by the Article 4 directions.

- Survey data reviewed (as noted above)

- Kirkley People's Forum and Ward Members pleased to see a lot of engagement from residents.
